Dear Parishioners,

Our Fourth Week of Advent is only four days. Short time to prepare for Christmas...but that being said, we are not really preparing for Christmas. We are preparing to be on the shore of the Jordan River with Jesus at His baptism.

After the birth of Jesus, we still have Epiphany when the Magi come to Jesus and Mary; we have then the Baptism of Jesus, on January 11th.

Why is this important? It is at His baptism that the Holy Spirit descends upon Jesus and the Father proclaims, "This is my beloved Son!" It is through the waters of our baptism, we too share in the sonship or "daughtership" of the Father.

It is all about baptism! So this Christmas day, enjoy family, friends, and the festivities. But remember, just remembering and be nostalgic is not what this is all about....its about being a son or daughter of God the Father, and a brother or sister to Jesus who humbled Himself to become one like us!

Merry Christmas!

yearning for God is somehow directed to Him. But there are often errors in the ways people of the world understand him. And thus it is essential for the Church to correct errors, and draw everyone to the One, Holy, Catholic and Apostolic faith in which there is the best hope for salvation.

Q: Major religions address God by different names. Are we all praying to the same God? And since most in the world do not acknowledge Jesus, what can they expect in terms of judgment?

Ed Eddy, Ft. Myers, FL

A: Whether we are praying to the same God, is assessed on a case-by-case basis.
A special understanding is given to the Jewish people. Of them, the Catechism states, "The Jewish faith, unlike other non-Christian religions, is already a response to God's revelation in the Old Covenant. To the Jews belong the sonship, the glory, the covenants, the giving of the law, the worship, and the promises" (No.839). They direct their prayers to God the Father, as we do though they do not understand God as Trinity, or accept Jesus or the Holy Spirit as God. And yet, it is fair to say they do direct their prayers to the same God, though imperfectly understood, to whom we direct our prayers though more perfectly understood.
As to the Muslims, they are monotheists, and, as a Catechism notes, "These profess to hold the faith of Abraham, and together with us they adore the one, merciful God, mankind's judge on the last day." (No. 841.) The Church's with other non-Christian religions is less certain and variable. Of these the Catechism says that God is clearly the common origin and end of the whole human race (cf No. 842).

Further, The Church recognizes in other religions that search, among shadows and images, for the God who is unknown yet near since He gives life and breath and all things and wants all men to be saved. (No. 843)

As to what the majority of people can expect, especially those who do not know or obey Christ, the Church expresses hope, but also warns that though their salvation apart from Christ is possible, that does not mean it is probable. For the Catechism also reminds that sin requires the remedy of faith, "But very often, deceived by the evil one, men have become vain in the reasoning, and have exchanged the truth of God for lie, and served the creature rather than the creator." Thus unbelief or imperfect belief is a form of darkness that hinders salvation and needs the healing of true faith. So, in the end, there is only one God and all

Prayer & Action Is Open!! – A Week of Faith, Service, and Joy!

This transformative experience encourages participants to relinquish their own designs to the workings of God. This summer, high school youth are invited to participate in Prayer & Action, our diocesan mission program that transforms the local community through hands-on service and transforms hearts through deep prayer.
